Terms and Conditions for the Purchase of Exam Papers from The Exam Room

1. These Terms and Conditions (“Terms”) govern the purchase, access, and use of examination papers (“Exam Papers”) supplied by The Exam Room. Purchase of Exam Papers constitutes full acceptance of these Terms.
2. The purchaser is the school or educational institution. Exam Papers may not be acquired or held independently by individual teachers, tutors, students, or private persons.
3. Exam Papers are for the exclusive internal use of the purchasing school. They are permitted only for that school’s internal assessments and teaching programs and must not be shared, sold, or distributed to any external organisation, tutor, or online platform. Any use, reproduction, possession, distribution, or access to Exam Papers without a valid purchase and licence from The Exam Room constitutes unauthorised use. Such conduct may amount to a breach of contract and an infringement under the Copyright Act 1968 (Cth), and may expose the offender and/or institution to civil liability, including injunctive relief and damages.
4. Access is restricted to registered NSW educational institutions.
5. All materials are protected under Australian copyright law. Purchasers may not:
 - Distribute Exam Papers electronically;
 - Share content outside their specific institution;
 - Upload Exam Papers to any public or private online repository;
 - Modify Exam Papers except as outlined in Section 6.
6. Modification of Exam Papers is prohibited without express permission. However, The Exam Room provides customisation services (e.g., re-sequencing or adapting content) upon written request to suit school-specific curriculum needs.
7. Schools must maintain the confidentiality of Exam Papers prior to administration. Content and completed scripts must not be released until The Exam Room declares the security period concluded.
8. The Exam Room reserves the right to amend these Terms. Purchases made following any amendments constitute acceptance of the updated Terms.
